Premier League Winner

You wouldn't have dared to dream that the Premier League would go this close after what looked like a Chelsea capitulation and an Arsenal resurgence. What has always been clear however is that Manchester United would always be in the shake-up. The weekend's showdown between United and Chelsea can seal it for the Reds or blow it open for the Blues but one thing is for sure, it's going to go down to the wire.

Manny Pacquiao v Shane Mosley

Manny Pacquiao defends his WBO welterweight title against Californian Sugar Shane Mosely in Las Vegas on Sunday morning. Pacquiao brings a 52-3-2 professional career record with 38 by way of KO versus Mosely's 6 defeats from 54 professional bouts with 39 KOs to his name. The Filipino is regarded as the world's best pound-for-pound fighter meaning Sugar Shane will have to sweeten up his game for this one.

FC Porto v Sporting de Braga

Portuguese champions Porto will face Braga in the Europa League Final in Dublin on the 18th May. Braga reach the final at the expense of Benfica who they beat 1-0 in a semi-final second leg to progress on away goals. Porto however having slotted Villarreal 5-1 at home in the semi-final first leg qualify for the showpiece despite losing 3-2 in the second leg.

County Championship Div One

The LV County Championship 2011 comes after a winter of ups as well as downs for English cricket. Eighteen teams will contest two divisions in the format of two innings per side over four days with 16 points for a win, eight for a tie and three for a draw with additional batting and bowling bonuses. Nottinghamshire won the title last season in a final day thriller and look strong again with Somerset, Durham and Yorkshire likely to challenge them for top honours.

F1 Drivers World Championship

The 2010 Formula One season went to the wire with Sebastien Vettel sealing victory in Abu Dhabi in the final race of the year and the 2011 season promises to be just as dramatic. One notable absence will be that of Robert Kubica following his rallying accident but Mark Webber, Fernando Alonso, Lewis Hamilton and Jenson Button will all be in the chase.

Tottenham Hotspur v Blackpool

Blackpool are rapidly running out of point-scoring opportunities in order to survive as they visit Spurs on Saturday afternoon but despite the 11 places difference in the league both clubs have a huge amount to fight for. Spurs, having enjoyed a taste of the Champions League, will be hungry for it again if not for a Europa League spot instead recently conceded to Liverpool. For Blackpool however it's a pure and simple battle for survival. Expect a big one.

Manchester United v Chelsea

Who would have thought that after Chelsea's mid-season trough that they'd be in contention at the climax and what a climax it is as they visit Old Trafford to play leaders Manchester United. United wobbled in the face of Arsenal to give up points last week but Chelsea are without loss in their last six. United however are unbeaten at home in this campaign and a win for the hosts seals it but another wobble would see the visitors go top.

Barcelona v Manchester United

So it comes down to Manchester United and Barcelona to contest the Champions League Final at Wembley on Saturday 29th May. United reach the showpiece by way of Marseille, Chelsea and Schalke meanwhile Barcelona booked their place dispatching Arsenal, Shakhtar Donetsk and Real Madrid. Barca's flowing passing game has all the flair of a potential Cup winning side but United have proved they are a team with fight and this replay of the 2009 final should bring out the best in both fantastic sides.

A Simple Way to Rate a Race

3rd April 2011

Hello everyone,

We've had some inquiries about the rating a race method I mentioned which uses the TS, PRP and OR ratings.

So this is a simple method that anyone can use to quickly rate race.

It's no hidden secret but can be very handy and a method I use myself.

So first things first, pop yourself over to the Racing Post website.

This method works around the OR, TS and RPR ratings so can still be used even if your havent subscribed to the Racing Post.

OK, so find a race where all horses have OR, TS and RPR all filled. Like the one in the picture.

Featured Review For The Week

Champion Racing Lays

It is coming towards the end of the initial 56 day review period and this service is showing a nice 20.38 point profit on a start bank of 50 points (over 40% profit).

See the review here...

Period of Reviews

Some debate has been going on as regards the length of time that services should be reviewed on Lay The Odds and Betting System Truths. A decision has been made, by our admin, Gordon!

1. If the product is "busy" i.e. there are normally selections every day, we go for the initial 56 day review, as currently, and then make a decision as to whether to continue or not. For these products we adopt a 56 "betting days" policy, so any day with no selections, for whatever reason, is not counted.

2. If the product is not busy, a "slow burner" as I call them, we will adopt a different policy. If it is obvious that there are only going to be one or two betting days per week, then we go straight to a full 84 day review. In this case it is just 12 weeks. However I think we will leave the option open for the reviewer to choose to go for 84 "betting Days" should they choose.

The idea is that the longer the review, and the more bets we can include, the better that is for everyone, readers, vendors, authors alike.
