Moto GP Riders World Champion

Valentino Rossi's dominance of the MotoGP series was finally broken last season by Spain's Jorge Lorenzo but only after the Italian was kept out through injury. This season Rossi rides for Ducati in his bid for a record 8th MotoGP world championship. Yamaha, who have dominated this event for the past three seasons, have lost their superstar to Ducati and with Nicky Hayden as team mate the Italian outfit look set for a strong season.

David Haye v Wladimir Klitschko

The dealings are over and the fight is finally on at Hamburg's 57,000 seat Imtech Arena on the 2nd July. David Haye throws his WBA heavyweight belt into the ring in his bid to unify it with Wladimir Klitschko's IBF and WBO equivalents. The buildup has already begun and Haye says that he'd fight Klitschko anywhere, so long as the location comes with a ring and a ref that can count to 10. Bring it on!

ATP French Open

Rafa Nadal returns to Roland Garros to defend his French Open crown looking for a third in four years. Novak Djokovic however is on fire and is unbeaten in all 37 matches this year and should he reach the final he will beat John McEnroe's record run of 42 successive start of the year victories in 1984. 2009 winner Roger Federer will no doubt be in the shake up and Britain's Andy Murray looks to have found some form and could go close also.

Premier League - To Stay Up

A few weeks ago it seemed like the three Premiership relegation candidates would all start with W but Blackburn, Birmingham and Blackpool have muddied the waters somewhat. West Ham have already suffered their fate and manager Avram Grant has met with the axe but with only one point covering places 15 to 19 Sunday's in-running scores will be analysed like never before.

Heineken Cup Final

Leinster meet Northampton in the Heineken Cup Final at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff with both sides looking for a second European title to add to their honours list. Northampton were last crowned Champions in 2000 with Leinster proving their dominance in 2009. The Irishmen still have a chance of a European and domestic double but Saints will have only this to focus on having lost their Aviva Premiership semi against Leicester last weekend.

Champions League Final

So it comes down to Manchester United and Barcelona to contest the Champions League Final at Wembley on Saturday 28th May. United reach the showpiece by way of Marseille, Chelsea and Schalke meanwhile Barcelona booked their place dispatching Arsenal, Shakhtar Donetsk and Real Madrid. Barca's flowing passing game has all the flair of a potential Cup winning side but United have proved they are a team with fight and this replay of the 2009 final should bring out the best in both fantastic sides.

Manchester United v Blackpool

There will be no favours granted by Champions Manchester United as they host Blackpool at Old Trafford which has been a fortress for the Reds this season where only West Brom have taken anything away. This is a genuine fight for survival for the Tangerines and it looks like only all three points will see them stay up. A real mountain to climb but that's exactly what Ian Holloway said his team would be: a team of mountain climbers.

F1 Drivers World Championship

The 2010 Formula One season went to the wire with Sebastian Vettel sealing victory in Abu Dhabi in the final race of the year and the 2011 season promises to be just as dramatic. One notable absence will be that of Robert Kubica following his rallying accident but Mark Webber, Fernando Alonso, Lewis Hamilton and Jenson Button will all be in the chase.

The 9 till 5 Punter

Hi,

So you have to work when all the action is going on...

You need to get your bets on but you're stuck in the office all day...

So how do you become a 9 till 5 punter?

Well modern technology to the rescue because these days you can use software to place those all-important bets. Got a perfect system or strategy well they can take care of that as well.

For those that are unfamiliar there is software out there that are referred to as bots. With these bots you can load up the day's markets from the exchanges and place your bets.

You can then let them run and they do all the hard work for you. With so many options within them you should be able to cover all bases.

Bonus Bagging – Introduction

15th May 2011

Inspector Magnifique-Introduces Bonus Bagging

Hi Bloggers,

Bonus Bagging is a service which as the name suggests makes use of different kinds of bonuses offered by bookmakers, casinos, etc. The Bonus Bagging service is run by Mike Cruickshank, a guy who in his own words specializes in risk-free betting.

The concept is well-known. There is a lot of competition in the market and bookmakers and casinos put a lot of effort into making people play with them, offering a range of bonuses, promotions, free bets, etc. This is what the Bonus Bagging service deals with. Mike finds those offers and explains in his emails how to cash them out with no risk of losing your money, thus doing all the hard work for you.

The service goes as a one-off fee of £27 via Clickbank with 60-day money back guarantee.

The offers can be done at any time of day and normally do not take much of your time. As soon as a subscriber needs another offer he simply sends the request to Mike and gets it. There's a variety of offers available, some are completely risk-free, others are low risk, and the subscribers can choose whatever suits them best.

The Bonus Bagging service is low risk and does not require a large betting bank. The minimum requirement is £150, although I will be using a bank of £200. The actual stakes will vary from offer to offer, depending on terms and conditions.

Mike claims that he uses this method himself and the results can be seen on his blog on the site.

The review of Bonus Bagging is going to last 12 betting weeks with a post for each week.

Cheers, Inspector Magnifique
