Southampton v Leeds
Southampton's return to the Championship and one step of away from the Premiership has brought new hope to the South Coast following the demise of neighbours Pompey. Saints open their Championship account against Leeds at St Mary's who narrowly missed out a play-off place last time. Leeds beat Newcastle 3-2 at the weekend in a pre-season warm-up and this might be a sign of things to come?

Coventry v Leicester

Sven Goran Ericsson's Leicester are strong fancies for promotion to the Premier League this season and their number of summer signings is testament to it as they travel to Coventry to start the new campaign. Coventry manager Andy Thorn desperately needs a new striker following Marlon King's departure to Birmingham but will they have necessary firepower to shoot down the Foxes.

Community Shield

Technically it may be a friendly but you can be sure there will be no love lost when the red and blue halves of Manchester meet up for the annual Community Shield at Wembley. United come here as league champions and City FA Cup winners but with the light blues spending big again Alex Ferguson's 'noisy neighbours' are sure to run the Red Devils close.

West Ham v Cardiff City

West Ham's drop out of the Premiership has caused huge fall out at Upton Park leading to an exodus of their top players back to top flight clubs. The Hammers however might have hoped for a softer start as Cardiff City will giving themselves a squeak of a play-off place come May as they only narrowly missed out on a promotion place last time.
