Bolton v Stoke

Best Odds:

Bolton Wanderers	8/5	CANBET
Draw	12/5	Boylesports
Stoke City	2	10Bet.com

more Bolton v Stoke odds...

Bolton last won the FA Cup back in 1958 when Sir Nat Lofthouse struck twice to dispatch Manchester United 2-0 on the day. Since then however the cupboard has been somewhat bare. Stoke on the other hand have never graced the Wembley turf in an FA Cup final but both sides have done incredibly well to get this far when considering their resources when compared to either of the teams one of them will meet in the final. Bolton will certainly be thinking of Sir Nat in their efforts to win it for him in this the year of his passing.

Real Madrid v Barcelona

Best Odds:

Real Madrid	15/8	PINNACLE
Draw	11/4	StanJames.com
FC Barcelona	6/4	PINNACLE

more Real Madrid v Barcelona odds...

You have go back three years and eighteen goals to when Real Madrid last won El Clasico in the league format but they hold the balance of power with five more wins than the Catalans over the last 161 renewals. Barcelona look the team to beat in what is the first of four meetings of these two great sides in the next three weeks. If league form is the leader here then the spoils are already with the visitors but Real's recent ruthless treatment of Spurs may indicate that the Special One has special plans for this weekend.

Chinese Grand Prix

If this season's form isn't already obvious then the Formula 1 early morning starts must be taking their toll but don't worry, this is the last early one before the series arrives in Europe for the Turkish Grand Prix in three weeks time. The Red Bulls look unstoppable but there is a sense that the Maclarens are finding speed when they need it and won't lie down just yet. It's still early doors however, but the last early start for a while!

Manchester City v Manchester United

It was back in 1999 when United completed an historic Champions League, Premiership and FA Cup treble but despite the Premier League being all but in the bag the other two elements remain firmly up in the air. United however hold the record of 11 FA Cup wins the last being in 2004 with City last winning the last of their four back in 1969. If Premier League form is to be taken into account then the Red side of Manchester has it but after all this is The Cup and as we all know.....

Jon's had that sinking feeling

I wonder if anyone else has experienced that awful feeling when you fully intend to place a bet but for some reason forget to do so and then have to suffer watching a race "just knowing" your selection is going to win...usually at a long price as well just to rub salt into the wound.

Period of Reviews

Some debate has been going on as regards the length of time that services should be reviewed on Lay The Odds and Betting System Truths. A decision has been made, by our admin, Gordon!

1. If the product is "busy" i.e. there are normally selections every day, we go for the initial 56 day review, as currently, and then make a decision as to whether to continue or not. For these products we adopt a 56 "betting days" policy, so any day with no selections, for whatever reason, is not counted.
2. If the product is not busy, a "slow burner" as I call them, we will adopt a different policy. If it is obvious that there are only going to be one or two betting days per week, then we go straight to a full 84 day review. In this case it is just 12 weeks. However I think we will leave the option open for the reviewer to choose to go for 84 "betting Days" should they choose.

The idea is that the longer the review, and the more bets we can include, the better that is for everyone, readers, vendors, authors alike.
