Norwich City v Chelsea

Chelsea appear to be limping along since their relatively austere Christmas period winning their last two Premiership outings by a single goal against meagre opponents in Wolves and Sunderland. Andre Villa Boas however has the backing of his owners and rebuild continues but it is unconvincing at present. Norwich however are looking for a hat-trick following back to back wins away to QPR and West Brom.

African Cup of Nations

Sixteen countries line up for the 28th African Cup Of Nations co-hosted this time by Gabon and Equitorial Guinea. Egypt scored an historic treble in 2010 by defeating Ghana in the final and a record seven titles but do not feature this time. Ivory Coast or 'Les Elephants' top the betting featuring Premier League stars Didier Drogba, Salomon Kalou, Gervinho and the Toure brothers Yaya and Kolo.

Queens Park Rangers v Wigan Athletic

With the cheque book at the ready QPR take on Wigan at Loftus Road in their first league outing in the Mark Hughes reign as they attempt to dig themselves out of the threat of relegation. Wigan on the other hand are without a win in their last six and have the lowest scoring record in the entire Football League. This must be the start of the road to recovery for Rangers if they wish to remain a Premier League side.

Bolton Wanderers v Liverpool

If Liverpool are to challenge for a European place there's work to do and it starts here. Bolton's fortunes have been mixed with an FA Cup fourth round tie against Swansea and the battle for Premiership survival to look forward to. Liverpool's Steven Gerrard is back to form and new signings are on the way so things are looking up for the Reds. Bolton however will be without Gary Cahill so the action will almost certainly be at the home end.

Manchester City v Tottenham Hotspur

Manchester City host Spurs at the Etihad Stadium riding high at the top of the Premier League three points ahead of a possibly faltering United. Spurs will want to settle the score after their 5-1 drubbing at The Lane back in August and could leapfrog United if Arsenal prevail later on Sunday. City will be without Vincent Kompany and the Toure brothers whilst Spurs' Emmanuel Adebayor misses out due to contract restrictions.

Arsenal v Manchester United

Third place Manchester United travel to The Emirates to face fifth place Arsenal. United have faltered of late losing out 3-0 to Newcastle and more surprisingly 3-2 to relegation candidates Blackburn. After the hype of Thierry Henry's return, albeit on loan, the shine has worn off with the Gunner legend at risk with a calf strain. 8-2 to United was the score last time but Arsenal are a changed team this time around.

ATP Australian Open

Off we go to Melbourne for the A$26 million Australian Open, the first Grand Slam event of the year where Novak Djokovic defends his title having defeated Andy Murray in the three set final last time. Roger Federer can set a new modern era record of 5 singles titles with victory here whilst Andy Murray seeks his hat-trick of final appearances, disappointingly losing both so far.

English FA Cup

A record 763 clubs started the road to Wembley 2012 for the 131st FA Cup, the oldest football competition in the world. Stats followers will note that Chelsea's Ashley Cole is the most decorated FA Cup winner with 6 winners medals to his name with Manchester United having lifted the Cup a record 11 times. Manchester City beat Stoke to claim the spoils last time and this year's winner will qualify for next season's Europa League group stage.

Heineken Cup

Last year's winners Leinster start as favourites for this the champions league of European rugby and face the cream of England, Wales, Scotland, France, Italy and of course their homeland of Ireland. Old foes and last year's finalists Northampton Saints reoppose as well as rugby's royalty and top seeds of Toulouse, Munster, Cardiff, Biarritz and Leicester. Look forward to good, fast, running rugby!
